

IT'S NOT ALL DOOM AND GLOOM

Last week saw JCA TV celebrate its 20th year in the industry. Having been established from a management buyout from BBC Enterprises, JCA has established itself as a premier content management service provider.

In 2004 the company was acquired by Nick Pannaman and Simon Kay of TVP Group and since then the company has gone from strength to strength developing a complete HD infrastructure and end to end Digital platform.

Recently the company acquired CinelImage, the film and restoration specialists, and more growth is planned for this coming year.

“Four years ago we acquired JCA and whilst plenty has changed in those 4 years the mainstay of the business, our staff, have continued to deliver over and over again. Some of them have been with the company for all of the 20 years – quite an achievement” stated joint Managing Director Simon Kay. “Our core services are growing in this new Digital era – it is exciting times although we are fully aware that the economic climate is affecting many parts of the industry”.
